

Town of Clifton Park wins two statewide Parks and Rec awards

April 12, 2011

Office of the Supervisor

The Town of Clifton Park recently received two New York State Recreation & Park Society awards. At left, Town Supervisor Phil Barrett receives the awards from Executive Director Barbara Diesem-Zimmons at the April 11, 2011 Clifton Park Town Board meeting.

Town Supervisor Phil Barrett received the statewide organization's Public Service Award. Barrett was recognized as an individual elected or appointed to public office at any level who has provided unselfish service for at least three years on behalf of the residents in their area in the interest of parks and recreation.

The Town of Clifton Park Agri-Tourism Program also received an award for Special Publication and Marketing for efforts to publicize Clifton Park's vibrant farming community. The award is given for special public relations materials, research reports, department logos, letterhead, newsletters, maps, films, web site development and special videos.
